E. LEE TRINKLE OPENS CAMPAIGN AT CLINTWOOD

Fires Opening Gun Tuesday At Clintwood, Dickenson County

KEYNOTE SPEECH

Democratic Nominee For Governor Renews Assurances Given Voters In Primary Campaign

In this, my opening address, to the voters of Virginia as the duly nominated candidate of the Democratic party for Governor, I desire first to express my sense of profound gratefulness for the distinguished political preferment conferred upon me by the Democratic electorate of the State. And I also take this early occasion to renew the assurance which I expressed in the primary campaign that when elected to the chief magistracy of the Commonwealth, I shall consecrate all that is best within me to the faithful, efficient and conscientious discharge of the exalted trust. There is no promise I made during the recent primary that I shall not earnestly attempt to redeem in fact; there is no assurance I then rendered that shall suffer neglect or indifference at my hands. I shall be absolutely unfettered by any condicion or promise or engagement whatsoever, that might tend to obscure my alert recognition of the fact that I am Governor of the entire people of Virginia, and that as their public servant they have full right to expect diligent, progressive, constructive administration during my term of office. I shall do my best to assure that they shall not be disappointed.

Believe me, my fellow-citizens. I am deeply impressed with the importance of the present campaign. The Democratic party has enjoyed uninterrupted control of the State Government for 36 years, and hence in appealing for an expression of renewed confidence from the electorate, it is under the solemn obligation to render a faithful account of its stewardship. It is also under attack from the nominee of the white and colored wings of the Republican party of Virginia—one headed by Colonel Henry W. Anderson, of Richmond, and the other by John Mitchell, Jr., colored, of Richmond; and it should respond to such attacks fairly, frankly, fearlessly. This service it is eager to render. The Democratic Party appears before the people of Virginia with clean hands and stainless standard. It appears before the people of the State with clear conscience, with open ledgers, with nothing to conceal, with nothing of which to be ashamed, but with exhibits rarely rich in the plentitude of good work to be ashamed, but with exhibits rarely rich in the plentitude of good works upon which it confidently craves public judgment. The Democratic Party does not assume attitude of defense, save in so far as the citation of truth is necessary for the refutation of error, and as the force of fact is needful to smash the smirking countenance of misrepresentation. Democracy does not claim to have in all things been perfect. It may have made mistakes; it doubtless has; no political organization on earth can claim that in the discharge of its duties it has established an absolutely perfect record. But the Democratic Party of Virginia does claim, and it stands ready to prove, that taking Virginia's history by and large, during the time in which it has served the State's interests, it has demonstrated beyond reach of doubt or cavil that the rapid develonment of Virginia's prosperity, and her progress in all lines of government have been contemporaneous with Democratic rule, and have resulted from Democratic rule; and that the record would have been written in letters of blight and disaster and dishonor had Republican policies prevailed, instead of those projected, maintained and expanded by the party now in control of the affairs of the Commonwealth.

Naturally, therefore, I take proud satisfaction in the thought that I am the nominee of the Democratic Party whose achievements and traditions in State and nation suggest the most inspiring chapters of our political history. I exult in the consciousness that it was due to the Democratic Party that Virginia was wrested from the regime of Republican tyrrany, corruption and misrule way back in that tragic period of her prostration im-

VERDICT FOR $4,000

David K. Garnett Wins Suit For Injuries

A verdict for $4,000 today was awarded David K. Garnett by a jury in the United States Court for the Eastern District of Virginia, Judge Lawrence D. Groner presiding. The object of the suit was to recover damages in the sum of $25,000 for injuries alleged to have been sustained October, 30 1918, when a sliding door fell on him while at work at the Cameron Street wharf. The suit was brought against John Barton Payne, director general of railroads, operating the Delaware, Maryland, Virginia line. An appeal on behalf of the government was noted by Attorney Howard W. Smith, Attorneys Carlin, Carlin and Hall and Leo P. Harlow represented the plaintiff.

This case was given to the jury at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and at 5 o'clock they had not reached an agreement and the jury was adjurned over by the court until 9:30 o'clock this morning. After being out an hour this morning they returned their verdict.

PRESIDENT FOR EARLY ACTION ON TWO BILLS

Speedy Disposition of Foreign Debt and Railroad Finance Measure Urged

TARIFF MUST WAIT

Strenuous Opposition Developes In Senate to Administration's Allied Loan Policy.

Washington, Sept. 28.—President Harding at last has found it necessary to throw himself into the legislative situation in order to save from indefinite delay, if not from outright defeat, some of the most important of the administration's policies.

Alarmed over the tangle in which the Senate finds itself, with a fight in progress on the peace treaties, with a filibuster against the Anti-Beer bill to be met and with party defection on taxation inevitable, the President proposes to send an urgent message to Congress or to deliver one in person in the effort to rescue from the blockade his Foreign Debt Refunding bill and the Railroad Financing bill.

In letting it be known today that he would seek to impress upon the House and Senate the necessity of early and [illegible]oon these measures the President indicated that he would be willing to have the passage of a permanent tariff act postponed. He is not willing, however, to have the foreign debt, the railroad or the taxation bills shunted aside.

It is generally agreed in Washington that only by the exercise of the fullest measure of his influence will the President be able to salvage at least two of the bills which the Administration originated and upon the passage of which it has set its heart. Only by assuming active leadership of a leaderless Senate will it be possible for him to get action upon his program before the extra session comes to an end.

As matters stand there is every reason to believe that the treaty debate and the taxation debate will continue for six weeks or perhaps much longer. As soon as these measures are out of the way the dry leaders in the Senate have pledged themselves to bring up the Anti-Beer bill, and to keep it before that body until it is voted upon. This determination on their part will be met by an equally determined filibuster which already has consumed weeks of the Senate's time and may consume as much more.

STATE NEWS

Richmond—Virginia and Richmond were well represented in the list of medal winners for the month of August in the Winchester Junior Rifle Corps matches. No less than fifteen Virginia youngsters won medals, and of this number one hailed from Richmond—Gordon Myers. The pro-marksman medals were given to 899 boys and girls in August, marksmen's medals to 468, sharpshooters' medals to 165 ,possible bars to 219, expert medals to 17, and instructors' medals to 16. The Virginia medalists are: Mason Richards, Fredericksburg; R. A. Burton, Jr., Danville; Gordon Myers, Richmond; H. L. Boatwright, Jr., Danville; Elbert N. Trinkle, Wytheville; Drayton Mayers, Greenwood; H. S. Wilson, Staunton; Harold G. Rolphe Virginia; William Woodley, Suffolk; Finlay F. Ferguson, Jr., Norfolk; W N. Weaver, University; Ernest F. Richmond—Mrs. Henry S. Eley president of the Virginia branch of the King's Daughters, has issued the call for the twenty-seventh annual state convention of this organization, which is to be held in Washington Street Methodist church, Petersburg, beginning October 25, and will be in session three days. Representatives from every circle in the state will be in attendance at the meeting which promises to be the most interesting of any gathering of the society yet held. Many delegates will go from this city The business sessions will be held both morning and night. The delegates usually spend the afternoons in entertainments and in other social ways, which have proved to be features of these annual gatherings.

Staunton—That Colonel Henry W. Anderson, republican nominee for governor, had declared before a Farmville audience his shame of the United States flag because of the star representing a state so unrepublican, so despotic and so disgraceful as Virginia and that such a man was unfit to be governor of Virginia was the message brought to Staunton and Augusta county voters by State Senator C. O'Conner Goolrick, of Fredericksburg in addressing a mass meeting yesterday morning in the court house. The race issue was again injected into the campaign when Mr. Goolrick appealed to the voters to preserve white supremacy in the 30 counties of Virginia's black belt.

Richmond—State-wide interest is being shown in the election of a "queen" of the Virginia Historical Pageant to be given next May. The secretary's office, located at the state headquarters of the Virginia division, T. P. A. of A., 301 East Main, Richmond, Va. is swamped with letters asking for ballots in lots of from one to five thousand for distribution to the friends of the various nominees throughout the state. Every white citizen of Virginia is entitled to one vote, men, women and children, if old enough to write their name.

Richmond—This year's poultry and pet show at the Virginia State Fair, October 1 to 8, both inclusive, will be the largest in the history of the Fair Association, according to Superintendent C. T. Riddick, who has already received a greater number of entries than ever before—indicating, he believes, that there has been a decided swing to the breeding and raising of blooded poultry in this state.

PRETTY WEDDING

Miss Nora Baggett Woolls Bride of Richard L. Schultze, of Washington

A pretty wedding was solemnized at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at St. Mary's Catholic Church when Miss Nora Woolls Baggett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baggett, of this city, became the bride of Mr. Richard Lee Schultze, of Washington, Rev. L. F. Kelly, assistant pastor, officiating.

The bride wearing a gown of gray canton crepe beaded in blue with hat to match and carrying a bouquet of Killarney roses, entered the church on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march sung by Mrs. Mattie Wade Woolls.

The bride was attended by Miss Helen Nugent who wore a gown of blue tricitine embroidered in gray and blue hat, and she carried Ophelia roses.

The bridegroom had for his best man his brother, Dr. E. Walton Schultze. The ushers were Louis Schultze, brother of the bridegroom; William P. Woolls, cousin of the bride, J. Lee Donnelly, of Washington, Walter E. Anderson, of Indian Head, Md.

After an informal reception for the wedding party and immediate families Mr. and Mrs. Schultze left for New York, en route to Jacksonville, Fla., by water. The bride's traveling suit was blue velour with hat to match.

During the ceremeony solos were rendered by Miss Mary Nugent and Mrs. Mattie Wade Woolls.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Donnelly, Miss Lillian Hill, Mr. John T. Hill, Misses Rose and Eva Crilly, Mr. Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Watkins, of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, of Indian Head, Md., Mr. Holland A. Moore, of New York, Miss Flora A. Grosier, of Suitland, Md., and Mr. M. F. Sullivan, of Kansas City, Mo.

SHARING JOBS SUGGESTED AS AID TO IDLE

Manufacturers Recommend Shorter Working Periods And Improving Plants

IGNORE WAGE ISSUE

Work on Public Roads Offers Best Opportunity for Employment because of Large Approperations.

Washington, Sept. 28.—The idea of spreading out the employment now existent and of speeding up work that must be done soon or late, but has been deferred, dominated the thought yesterday of the Unemployment Conference, dealing with the emergency problem of finding jobs for the several million men and women who have been thrown out of their positions.

The committee dealing with emergency measures by manufacturers passed over such issues as wages and agreed unanimously yesterday upon an emergency program for submission to the conference. In substance it is this:

Rotation in existent employment; that is, division of jobs among a greater number of workers than ordinarily.

Shorter work days.

Shorter work weeks.

Manufacturing for stock.

Cleaning and improving of factories and plants.

In the many factories, it is stated, one or more of these ideas already have been put into effect and the committee expressed its gratification over that.

The committee includes in its personnel Charles M. Schwab, of New York; Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Mrs. Sarah Conboy, secretary of the United Textile Workers of America, and W. H. Stackhouse, of Springfield, Ohio, chairman.

The committee dealing with emergency State and municipal measures and public works has about completed its preliminary work and is expected to make public shortly a recommendation that roads work be rushed in all sections and that other public enterprises be pushed. The roads work offers the best opportunity to give employment, because of the great sum in the aggregate that has been appropriated by Federal, State and local government. Figures are being got from the Department of Agriculture as to the sums available, the places where it is to be spent, the number of men who can be used, etc.

In the committee dealing with emergency measures in construction it has been found that the construction field is not suffering acutely from lack of employment at this time. That field is peculiar, it is said, in that it suffers from lack of materials rather than work. The need for construction in all lines has tended to keep it in operation fairly well. However, the members of the committee understand that statistics show that one builder at work keeps four men at work in factories, and studies are being made to develop facts as to these points:

Whether the construction is restricted by artificial high costs in financing.

Whether it is restricted by high freight rates.

Whether it is restricted by improper combinations of labor unions and material men.

Whether it is restricted by improper labor union regulations.

There was a public hearing at the conference rooms in the Department of Commerce this morning on unemployment statistics, Henry M. Robinson, chairman of the committee dealing with that subject, stated that the committee will not seek definitely accurate figures, owing to the lack of machinery, but will try to get sound information that can be used as the basis for estimates sufficiently accurate.

Bible Thought for Today

GOD CARES FOR HIS OWN:—And they shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.—Malachi 3: 17.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

Washington, Sept. 28.—Considerable inetrest is being manifested in the report that Woodrow Wilson was about to emerge from his voluntary retirement and take a hand in leading a fight against ratification of the Harding treaty with Germany. As nearly as can be determined, there is no truth in this report, which started in yesterday's New York and Philadelphia papers, although of course no one would be greatly surprised if the former President, feeling as he does about the proper method of making peace with Germany, should announce his opposition to the separate peace pact.

Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, who probably has seen the former President as often as anyone of the old friends of Mr. Wilson, does not know it if there iis to be a Wilson fight against the German treaty. The Senator said he had talked to Mr. Wilson several times in recent weeks and that the subject of the German treaty was not even mentioned in their conversations. The chances are, it is belived, that if Mr. Wilson contemplated a "return from Elba" as the New York papers have it, he would have taken Senator Glass into his confidence.

There is also a well founded report that certain Senators on the Democratic side wanted to get Senator Swanson of Virginia to go to see Mr. Wilson in the effort to get a public statement of his views on the treaty, but the understanding is that Senator refused to do this on the theory that if Mr. Wilson wanted to express himself he would do so on his own accord.

Senator Harrison of Mississippi, believes that the report about Wilson is a part of the Republican propaganda and he scoffs at the idea of Wilson's fighting the treaty

The Versailles Treaty

As a matter of fact, the Senate Democrats, acting on the theory that partisanship should end at the three-mile limit, probably will not take action as a body on the treaty but will leave each Senator to vote as he pleases.

This action is in remarkable contrast to that of the Republicans when the Versailles treaty was before the Senate, when they used every conceivable device to line up the members of their party against the treaty signed by the then President Wilson.

A final Democratic conference on the treaty is to be held tomorrow at which the question of possible interpretative reservations will be discussed. Although they do not have hope of having such a reservation adopted, some of the Democrats are thinking of offering a reservation to provide that the United States, in accepting the rights and advantages of certain sections of the Versailles treaty, shall also accept the obligations of those particular sections.

This reservation is offered on the theory that acceptance of advantages without acceptance of obligations constitutes a sort of international selfishness to which the United States should not be a party.

The Panama Tolls

Announcement by Senator Borah of Idaho that he intends to force a vote on his Panama canal tolls bill when it comes up on October 10 makes it certain that the Harding administration is going to be considerably embarassed in its dealings with the British government.

Polls of the Senate indicate that the bill, which exempts American coastwise shipping from the payment of tolls, will pass the Senate by a narrow margin. If it should pass the House, and be signed an immediate protest by the British, to the effect that the bill is a violation of the Pay-Pauncefote treaty, is a foregone conclusion. Coming at this time, when every effort is being made to have the nations assemble in a amicable way to discuss limitation of armaments, the whole thing would be most disconcerting to the administration.

For that reason, the chances are that the bill after passing the Senate, will be put on the sidetrack in the House and held there indefinitely, or at least until the arms conference is out of the way.

Ledoux Missed Departments

When Urbain Ledoux, the Bostonian who has attracted considerable attention by his auction sales of the jobless in Boston and New York, came to Washington to help the unemployed, he wandered about the streets of the Capital for two hours trying to find some unemployed. He found some, almost got arrested, and finally went back to the Ebbitt in disgust.

The remark was made that Mr. Ledoux looked for Washington's unemployed at the wrong time. He should have passed through some of the government departments in the day time, it was said, and he would have found plenty of persons not working.

TEACHERS TO VISIT WASHINGTON SCHOOL

Plans For Coming Year Outlined at First General Teacher's Meeting

The first general teachers' meeting of the Alexandria Public Schools was held last Friday in the Lee School. Superintendent Sweeney explained the policies to the new teachers and outlined plans for the coming year.

Miss Mary D. Pierce, the new supervisor of the schools, explained the nature of her work and the help teachers may derive from it. It was decided to continue the plan of having teachers observe the methods and teaching of other teachers, which they have been doing in the past, within the system. In previous years a number of teachers have been using their holidays to visit the Washington schools and gain knowledge of the methods used in the Capital City. But this has been done in an individual capacity. It is proposed to extend this practice and on Friday, all first grade teachers of Alexandria will visit a first grade class in Washington, where through the efforts of Miss Pierce, a competent teacher has been selected to teach a class for the benefit of the Alexandria teachers. Miss Pierce proposes to plan these visits for the teachers of different grades once a year.

A similar meeting was held last Thursday by the colored teachers of this city.

Womans's Missionary Society

Annual Fall Rally Address by Mrs. T. E. Morton

At the Annual Fall Rally of the woman's Missionary Society of the Southern Methodist Church, which was held in the Sunday School room of that church last night. Mrs. T. E. Morton, a returned missionary, addressed a large audience of the members of that society and many visitors. An interesting program was carried out.

The meeting was opened with a piano solo by one of the city's ablest musicians, Miss Jennie Richards, following which the congregation sang the hymn "O Zion Haste." Reverend E. V. Regester led in prayer. Mrs. W. M. Reardon, president of the society read the chapter St. John 20. Mr. Kenneth W. Ogden then rendered a solo "Come Unto Me," and Miss Mary Davis gave a humorous reading, entitled, "Entertaining." Mrs. Morton was then introduced by Mrs. W. M Reardon, and after a vocal solo proceeded with her address. Mrs. Morton took as scriptural basis for her address the verses, Acts, I; 8, "But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye

WILL ERECT NEW BRIDGE ON DUKE ST.

City Council Grants Permission to R. F. & P. Railroad

DEFER ELECTIONS

Council Adopts Many Ordinances To Improvement of Sidewalks. Other Matters Presented.

An ordinance granting the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company permission to erect a new bridge in place of the present structure on Duke street extended north of Ballenger's store was adopted by city council last night after a protracted debate by a vote of 10 to 4.

Attorney Gardner L. Boothe, repreesnting the railroad company, appeared before common council and made a speech advocating the passage of the ordinance. He said he would not advocate it if he did not believe it of the utmost importance to the city of Alexandria, adding that the R. F. and P. road pays to its employees here hundreds of thousands of dollars each year. The present structure he declared needs renewing, and at present it is too low as a result of its lowness he said smoke and acid from the engines causes its disintegration. The new structure he declared would cost approximately $330,000, and would be one foot three inches higher than the present structure.

The committee on streets prior to Mr. Boothe's address had made an adverse report on the ordinance and afterward the report of the committee was rejected. Then followed considerable debate over the ordinance in which many of the members participated.

The ordinance was then amended, and as amended passed. It provides that the bridge shall be thirty five feet wide, the width of the present structure; that it shall be elevated fifteen inches and that there shall be suitable walkways on either side. After the amendments were made it was adopted.

An ordinance providing for a change of the grades at the point where the bridge will be erected was adopted by a vote of 10 to 4. Those voting against both ordinances were Messrs. Desmond, Sullivan, Ballenger and Devers.

Contrary to expectations council did not go into a joint session for the purpose of electing a fire chief and four school trustees. The lower board was ready to go into an election. The board of aldermen, however, refused the invitation owing to the lateness of the hour and it was postponed. A large delegation of firemen were on hand expecting a fire chief to be chosen. Resolution providing for an annual appropriation of $163 for installing a more adequate lighting system on upper King street from Peyton street westward was adopted on the recommendation of the committee on light

The sum of $300 was appropriated to extend pipe sewer on St. Asaph street north of Queen street.

Ordinance requiring that all trains over the Washington-Virginia Railway stop at Cameron and West and King and West streets was adopted on the recommndation of the street committee.

The street committee recommended that the corporation attorney prepare an ordinance providing that the Southern Railway Company be granted permission to change the curb grade at Alfred and Wilkes streets and its report was adopted.

Bid of Weil, Roth and Company for purchase of $300,000 of city gas works and improvement bonds was read and their bid accepted.

Resolution that the corporation attorney prepare an ordinance to pay certain sums of money to the board of supervisors of Fairfax County for certain road construction work was adopted. Resolutions of Councilman Baggett that the attention of the proper authorities be directed to the unsightly condition of produce, signs and boxes on King street, and the matter was referred to the committee on police.

Other matters presented follow: Petition from M. B Harlow to establish grade on Prince street to the corner of Peyton street, referred to street committee; report of the grand jury relative to the finding of liquor at the Relief Truck Company's house was read and referred to the fire committee, Harry Cohen of the Idle Hour Theatre was granted permission to make improvements at the theatre; resolutions indorsing E. J. McDermott for re-election as fire chief were

SENATOR TRINKLE'S SPEECH

Senator E. Lee Trinkle delivered the key-note speech of the campaign yesterday at Clintwood, Dickenson County. It is a magnificent effort and sounds a clarion call to the Democracy of the state. We publish his opening remarks on the front page today, and shall continue the speech in successive issues. It takes a fearless stand on all the state issues of the day, and leaves not the slightest scintilla of doubt as to Senator Trinkle's position on each and every one of them. Incidentally he takes note of Col. Anderson his Republican opponent, and his recent speech at Lexington. He handles the latter gentleman without gloves, literally tears his arguments to tatters, and what there is left of him would require a microscope of the nth power to discover.

We have no hesitancy in saying that this is the greatest effort of Senator Trinkle's political life. Masterly in argument, concise in phraseology, logical in sequence of thought, of crystal clarity in expression, it leaves no question unanswered, that can possibly arise in the minds of a thinking electorate.

The Senator has scrupulously answered all the objections raised by the Republicans in the present campaign. More than this, he has anticipated all that can be raised. It seems to us that he has settled beyond quibble and cavil the disputations of the opposition.

If there are any Doubting Thomases in the ranks of the Democratic Party in Virginia—and we know of none—a reading of this speech must perforce remove them from the category of uncertainty.

We congratulate the Democracy of the Old Dominion on its choice of a standard-bearer. Right worthily has he entered the fray, and right worthily will he carry its unsullied banner to victory in November!

We shall continue the publication of the speech from day to day, and would recommend to our readers that they read each instalment as it appears, and then read the entire speech, that they may refresh themselves anew with the plain and simple faith of their fathers, as it comes undiluted from the lips of the young man who is to be their spokesman and the champion of their rights for the next four years.

IN CHINA

(For the Gazette)

White is the mourning color of the Chinese.

The straight line is an abomination to the Chinese.

Ten cents is the average daily wage in the interior of China.

The Chinese calculate time on a basis of the entire twenty-four hours of the day rather than two twelve hour periods.

The Chinese schoolboy recites his lessons with his back turned to the master; the master beckons the pupil by waving him away.

In China it is the old women and not the young ones who are the objects of homage and adoration.

Grave robbery is the most heinous offense under the Chinese code. The thief may be killed on the spot by anyone detecting a ghoul in the act of stealing a body.

The Chinese wear five buttons on their coats to remind them of the principal moral virtues recommended by Confucius—humanity, justice, order, prudence and rectitude.

China is still the world's sleeping giant, a nation of 400,000,000 people. Its styles of dress are gradually changing. The queue is passing and the younger generation is adopting Western garments. Modern Western business methods are also gradually making headway among the native merchants.

shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth," and Acts 4: 12, "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." She was attired in the native Indian costume and saluted her audience with the Indian "salaam" which as she explained has a variety of meanings. Her speech was made especially interesting by her wonderful ability to quote the scriptures in both the Indian and her own tongue and it was illustrated with many quaint and interesting curios which she has collected from novel sources and her explanation of Hindustanic names applied to them. She also related many of the inspiring scenes during her thirteen years as a missionary in that country. Especially was her relation of the costumes of the natives in regard to the widows, pathetic. She stated that there were, in that country, nearly twenty-five million widows of which number about eighteen thousand were under the age of ten years. These widows are at no time allowed to eat more than one "meal of rice" in twenty-four hours. She told of the wonderful work being done by a native worker at the Mutk (Salvation) Mission. This mission is primarily for the higher caste women of India. According to her statement, there are about three hundred and thirty million false Gods and Goddesses in India today, and the G Kali, the God of cruelty, she states, is the most popular among them an that this God receives more each year than all the Christian Churches expend on the Christianization of that country. She invited all present to come and look over her collection of curios including laces, ear rings, a tea posy of Indian design, photos of the natives and many others. She closed her address with prayer, after which she and Mrs. E. E. Carver sang a duet. The closing hymn was "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," at the request of Mrs. Morton.

Mrs. C. E. Dare introduced the several numbers of the program and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. C. P. Lloyd, of the Second Baptist Church.

Mrs. Morton will address the Society again this afternoon at the business meeting which is to be held from two to four o'clock at the Southern Methodist Church.

Those sitting on the rostrum with the missionary were Mrs. Julia Brawner, the pioneer missionary worker of the M. E. Church, Mrs. C. C. Carlin and Mrs. J. G. Cockey, the district secretary in Alexandria.

Even an ertra pair of all-wool Blankets, checked or striped, is a splendid move assuring perfect comfort. A pair

Some of these comforters have daintily colored sateen covers and give just enough warmth on nights that turn unexpectly cool.

CHINA Like This Sets An Attractive Table

It is surprising how quickly China gets broken no matter how careful you are and you know how annoying it is to find certain pieces missing when you have guests. Even for yourself day in and day out nicked dishes are unpleasant. AUTUMN OPENING and Exposition of new Merchandise

Thursday and Friday, Sept. 29 and 30

NEVER before has this store beeen filled with such an array of goods, fresh and newly bought, representing the best and latest styles. Joyous anticipation is in the air; gorgeous suits, coats, frocks and materials that tell of fashion's latest decree.

Our store has been newly arranged and new departments added, including the opening of a new Bargain Basement which will be the most popular resort for wise shoppers in Alexandria and vicinity. Our Third Floor is a marvel of rich and beautiful things for the home and so on throughout the entire Four Floors. To the people of Alexandria and nearby townships we extend a hearty invitation to visit us during the opening days and join in celebrating this happy event.

Frocks Rise to Every Occassion

With Unique Trimming Touches

It is so much pleasanter to select Frocks this season when styles are attractively varied and colors new and fascinating. Cut work in Persian patterns, elaborate beading and embroidery on the more dressy styles finds a counterpart in the clever braiding which distinguishes Street Frocks.

Tailormade

These days are just about right to wear a cloth Street Frock without a wrap—or a smart choker, perhaps, and here is a group of very good looking Dresses in Poiret and conservatively styled to make them serviceable but hultra fashionable.

$19.50 to $89.50

Long Skirts

—If that's a question which finds you a little fearful you must see how artfully these informal Frocks of taffeta and crepes dodge the issue by dropping girdle ends or panels or tassels below a popular length hem. Just a clever trick of the trade.

$25.00 to $89.50

A Suit To Fit Your Fancy

Is More Than Likely Here

You may be glad that the early prognosticators of Fall Suits were false prophets because, perhaps you remember, they tried to set up a single acceptable silhouette, slim and having a long jacket. While instead Suits show every varying degree of coat lengths and not uncommonly a most swagger skirt flare.

In the opinion of many well-dressed women Fall is the best time to purchase a Suit because fashioned as they are of heavier fabrics they may be worn well into Winter and always with a certain distinguishing smartness.

at $29.50

Many Suits in the new style are in this group and others designed for more mature figures. Excellent tailoring makes these splendid values in all-around practical Suit values.

at $45.00

Blue has long been the approved color for Suits but this season there are blues and blues, Sorrento, navy, peacock, azurite and Harding just in this one group of semi-elaborate Suits.

at $89.50

Furs, nutria, squirrel, wolf, mole that give such a distinguished air to suits of exquisite fabric are typical of this group—collars, cuffs, bands, even panels are rich of pelts.

Pull the Curtain

—Most assuredly and let us have an extra long peek at this Blouse. A front panel, a sash, embroidered cabochons; Yes, three very attractive style features and there's not a Blouse in this group that hasn't exploited others just as novel.

We Are Proud

of our hosiery Dept. and justly, we think. For it is a place to secure just what you desire, whether the highest quality or moderate priced hose. The new autumn colors in hose are here as well as the popular wool hose for cold days.

ONE WEAK SPOT.

Many Alexandria People Have a Weak Part and Too Often It's the Back.

Many people have a weak spot.
Too often it's a bad back.
Twinges follow every sudden twist.
Dull aching keeps up, day and night.
Backache is often from weak kidneys.
In such case a kidney medicine is needed.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys,
For backache and urinary ills.
Alexandria people recommend the remedy. Ask your neighbor!
Mrs. H. A. Miles, 1209 Prince St., Alexandria, says: "My back pained so I couldn't do housework without a great deal of misery. I had sharp twinges through the small of my back over my kidneys and I felt weak and languid. Mornings I hated to get up. My kidneys were sluggish. I only had to use one box of Doan's Kidney Pills before I could feel I was getting kidneys were regulated. In a short time I was entirely cured of kidney complaint."

"Save the surface and you save all" Paint & Varnish

There are two ways to buy paint or varnish— and two results:

Way 1—You ask simply for "paint" or "varnish" and run a chance of its being right.

Result 1—Often the wrong material used on the surface. A bad job, which is a cause for annoyance until it is done over again at extra expense.

Way 2—Explain what you want to do and we will recommend the kind of E. C. SIMMONS KEEN KUTTER Quality Paint that's most suitable.

Result 2—A beautiful, lasting job, that saves the surface, looks right, and gives you your money's worth.

This Store Earnestly Recommends that you use "Way 2" in buying Paint or Varnish.

TOYS—All kinds and descriptions. Many other articles at prices that will convince you that ours are lowest.

mediately following the Civil War, and that it was the Democratic Party which has ever since consistently and unflaggingly fought for the maintenance of white supremacy in Virginia and for Virginia's advancement along all lines tending to secure and promote the social, political and material well-being of the people. In this campaign, then, I shall base my claims to the confidence and support of Virginia voters upon the record of the Democratic Party as it is revealed in State and national public policies and accomplishments, as well as upon my own pledges for true and tireless service. But I shall not be content with this. I shall inquire of my distinguished Republican opponent: What of the record of the Republican Party? He is a candidate of that organization, and in complete political sympathy with it, both in the nation and in the State. He has accepted the leadership under the full knowledge that in so doing he assumed unconditional responsibility as a Republican candidate for office, and that that responsibility inevitably requires from him a candid response to the question: What has the Republican Party done, or ever sought to do, for the benefit of the Virginia people? What has the Republican party in the nation ever done or sought to do for Virginia that would benefit Virginia, make more secure the bases of her civilization, and promote the happiness of her people? What has it ever done or attempted to do in the days of its power, that was designed to lead the State out from the shame and shadows consequent upon the merciless Republican plans and policies inaugurated and continued for many years after the Civil War?

As yet Colonel Anderson has shown no disposition to discuss this phase of his party's career. Quite the contrary. When opening his campaign in the historic town of Lexington, he took occasion to explain rhetorically the sentiments which drew him there. He had a care, however, not to explain why and how it was that the Republican Party in Virginia had once sought, through the Underwood Constitution, to disfranchise and decitizenize Robert E. Lee whose honored tomb was in close distance of the speaker's stand—to disfranchise every man who had followed the fortunes of the Confederacy, and who gave the tribute of loyalty to its cause. One has only to think of the dead Captain of the Confederate hosts, there ensepulchered, and the principles he represented, and the heroic legions which followed him in war, and the millions who have since loved and honored his memory in peace, in order to conclude that Mr. Anderson might well and more appropriately have chosen some other Virginia community in which to urge the white people of Virginia to support the Republican party in the present campaign. Perhaps it was some subtle consciousness of this incongruity in the situation that caused the Republican candidate in his keynote address to make no allusion to the record of his party. For it is a fact easily verifiable, and already verified, that in that speech, covering more than thirteen closely printed columns of newspaper space, Mr. Anderson made no reference to the Republican record. He did not extol it. He did not show willingness to stand upon it. If silence meant repudiation he sought to repudiate it. Or if silence was indulged with the hope and purpose that it mikht cause the people to forget the Republican record, then a political play was attempted which was as feeble in conception as it will prove futile in effect. The Republican Party has a record, and I propose, as the standard-bearer, of the Virginia Democracy, to hold its candidates to the record. As suggested by the Lynchburg News:

"In his (Colonel Anderson's) keynote campaign speech he ignored the Republican Party. Why? Can Mr. Anderson be ashamed of his party that it pleases him to ignore its record? Can he be ashamed of his political flag that he does not proudly wave it? Does he stand humiliated and abashed in the presence of the history and traditions of his party that he does not rely upon them, or ever suggest them as reasons for his election? If so, surely he cannot expect the Democratic voters of the State to share such shame, to consort with him in his humiliation, to take up partnership with him in an alliance which he does not care to extol."

Democratic Railroad

Phila., Sept. 28.—Committees consisting of equal representation of the employes and of the management have now been established on Pennsylvania Railroad for the settlement of all controversial questions affecting approximately 120,000 employes.

A new basis of understanding between the management and these employes is now in effect. On their part the employes recognize that all differences should be and are capable of amicable settlement. On the part of the management effectual recognition is given to the right of the employes to have a voice on equal terms with the management in matters affecting their welfare and working conditions.

With the train and engine service employes this arrangement, embodied in the joint reviewing committee has been in effect since January 1, of this year. A method of amicable adjustment similar to this joint reviewing committee has been worked out by the representativs of the management and the representatives of other classes of employes.

The group includes in the new arrangements are:

Train and engine service, maintenance of ways and structures, signal department, mechanics' helpers and apprentices, maintenance of equipment and telegraph and telephone Eastern region, clerical forces Eastern region and miscellaneous station forces Eastern region.

For each of the first three groups a systm reviewing committee, constituting a court of review upon all questions that may arise between the management and employes affected, is now in effect. For each of the three other groups a regional reviewing committee has been established.

The questions to be taken up by these committes include grievances, rules and working conditions, and the administration of discipline. The votes of all members, whether representatives of the management or of the employes are of equal power. Not less than two-thirds vote is necessary to reach a decision upon any question presented.

In all matters except individual discipline cases the full committee will vote and its decisions will constitute precedents which will be binding equally upon both sides with respect to similar existing of future cases. In disipline cases which involve a personal element, the representatives of the management and the representatives of employe directly intersted in the case merely act as counsel for the presentation of their respective claims and do not vote on the case.

A method of appeal to the division superintendent, general superintendent and general manager is provided so that all cases which cannot be settled on division may receive expeditious attention by the reviewing committee. Regular meeting dates are fixed for the division superintendents, the general superintendents and the general managers to meet representatives of the employes under their jurisdiction and appeal may be taken in this order, the employes participating in every step in decisions affecting their interest.

The formation of these committees carries out the policy announced on May 20 1921, of giving all employes an opportunity to have a voice in the management in maters affecting their welfare. Following this announcement elections were held throughout the system to determine the employes' choice of representation to formulate new rules and working conditions to take the place of the national agreement.

It was announced at that time that it was the hope of the management that these employe representatives would form the nucleus of committees which should frequently confer with the management on all matters, concrening the employes. Accordingly, as soon as the new rules were agreed upon, the employe representatives and the management held a series on conferences which resulted in the formation of these committees.

The system reviewing committee for the employes on maintenance of way and structures is composed of eight representatives of the management and eight representatives of the employes, two from each region.

The system reviewing committee for the signal department is made up in the same way.

The regional joint committee for the shopcraft employes of the Eastern region is composed of seven representatives of the management and seven representatives of the employes. The regional joint committee for clerical forces in the Eastern region is composed of six representatives of the management and six representatives of the employes.

The regional joint committee for the miscellaneous station forces in the Eastern region is composed of five representatives of the management and five representatives of the employes.

The chairman of each committee alternates betwen a representative of the banagement and a representative of the employes.

PUBLIC SPEAKING TONIGHT

8 o'clock at Republican Club at Club Room, King and Washington Streets by Miss Dickerson, of Russell County, Virginia. All invited to hear her.

"SHIP AHOY!"

Do you discriminate at the dining table—or are you thoughtless?

In thousands of homes, a "line" is drawn at the breakfast table. Tea or coffee is served for "grown-ups" and Postum for children. But some parents do not discriminate. Caffeine and tannin, the injurious contents of coffee and tea, seriously retard the development of the delicate nerve tissues in children.

Consequently, instead of rich, satisfying Postum, children are over stimulated by the drugs in tea and coffee; and so may grow up irritable and nervous. Any doctor can tell you that this is a great evil and should be corrected.

Although some parents feel a certain justification for the personal indulgence in coffee, yet the harm to them may be equally serious. It may take a little while longer for the drugs in coffee and tea to affect an older person, but in many cases the nervous system and allied bodily functions will become weakened. The surest way to avoid such possibilities is to quit coffee entirely and drink Postum instead. The change permits you to get sound, restful sleep.

Postum is the well-known, meal-time beverage. Like thousands of others you will like it because, in flavor, it is much like a high-grade coffee.

Do away with the distiction at the table. Serve delicious Postum, piping hot, to all the family. One week's trial and it is likely that you'll never return to tea and coffee.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

24½ Million Dollars Invested by Employes of Swift & Company

More than 21,000 employes of Swift & Company own or are paying for shares in the business. These men and women have attested their faith in the integrity and good will of the company by investing their savings in the business.

Their holdings represent a total of nearly 250,000 shares, the par value ($100 a share) of which is more than $24,500,000.

These 21,000 represent more than one-third of our average number of employes!

One man out of every three, in plant, office, and branch house, from the handworker on the floor to the brain worker at the desk; working with us as well as for us, devoting himself to his own business while devoting himself to ours; promoting his own interests in every motion or moment saved, in every product improved or maintained at perfection, in every service rendered through prompt, thorough, effective distribution of products.

This interested, eager group of fellow partners working with us for the good of Swift & Company and the public which we serve, constitutes one-half of the ownership of Swift & Company in point of numbers, and nearly one-sixth in point of shares outstanding.

It represents practical and successful progress toward the end at which enlightened modern industry is aiming for the solution of industrial problems—toward cooperation, mutuality, brotherhood in business, for the good of all.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN
A prominent physician says that by far the largest number of women's ailments are not surgical ones, that is they are not caused by serious displacements, or growths. Symptoms similar in character are often brought about by much simpler conditions. We therefore urge every woman who suffers from backache, headaches, bearing down pains, side ache, irregularities, nervous despondency, or weakness to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It acts as a natural restorative and often prevents more serious troubles.

Happy Living Room Takes Vivid Colors of Summer Sunset To Insure Warmth and Cheer During Drear Winter Months

By DOROTHY ETHEL WALSH.

AS I "take my pen in hand" the thermometer makes it hard to plan winter furnishings. Color, however, will raise drooping spirits, so to-day in order to forget the record breaking weather let us play the game of color.

Now do we play the game? First we choose a room for which a new color scheme is needed and then we have a most wonderful time imagining the different combinations we may use in it. Let us to-day choose a living room and for the fun of it let us say it is to be in this "play room" should not be rose, the most happy living room imaginable.

How to begin? A Japanese vase stands beside me on the table and I will select it for the foundation of one scheme. The background of the design is a soft rose color, and scattered over its surface are leaves and flowers in varying shades of jade, cornflower blue, light yellow, but rather a cream with a rose tint. At the windows let us hang jade green over draperies and let us line them with light (oh, very light) yellow silk. One chair let us have upholstered in cornflower blue and to the rug we will give the taupe shade. A couple of wooden chairs we will paint red orange, and if more painted furniture should be used we will make it green. If, however, mahogany or walnut should be on hand either would fit nicely into the scheme planned.

Now for another, a floral picture as its basis. The background is black, and the flowers show rose, burnt orange, deep purple, cream and shell pink, while the leaves range from light yellow green to deep blue green.

We will again plan cream walls as the larger areas in a room should be given the more neutral shades. At the windows let us place burnt orange hangings, and on several chairs let us put upholstering of deep purple velour. The carpet may be dark gray, almost black, dark green taupe and red orange. Because most of these colors are warm in tint we will say our room faces north so that we may use each hue to ex heart's content.

The walls, let us imagine, are cream with a quantity of pink in its makeup. Do not mistake my meaning. The walls while in the mantel ornaments, vases, &c., we may use our shell pink, deep rose and old blue.

Had enough? Or shall we try one more? This time let us use a figured hanging as a nucleus. Let us say it is of a light green background (quite gray in tone) and has an orange and blue design. Let us make these walls gray and the furniture a deeper shade of the same color with stripings of orange. On this furniture let us use cushions of blue and a mole colored rug on the floor. And just to be contrary and because the shade is not in the curtain material at all let us place on the mantel two compotes and a low bowl of lemon yellow china. Then just to continue being contrary, we will hang on the walls a few Japanese prints framed with narrow moldings of Chinese lacquer red.

The artist has shown you the three different arrangements. The top sketch shows the first scheme we have planned to-day, the lower the second scheme and the centre drawing gives you a glimpse of the room with figured hangings.

Now do we play the game? First we choose a room for which a new color scheme is needed and then we have a most wonderful time imagining the different combinations we may use in it. Let us to-day choose a living room and for the fun of it let us say it is to be

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of our dear father and grandfather, JOHN T. BROWN, who departed this life one year ago today.

Just one year ago today
Our dearly beloved was called away,
By his God whom he served and loved
Yes, He summoned him to his home above.

Since he left us the days seem very long,
Even the birds seem to have lessened their song,
We miss his helpful hand, his smile and his cheer,
No longer in our home his dear voice do we hear.

That vacant chair can never be filled,
Our sorrow and grief shall never be stilled,
But now he is happy in Heaven we know,
For he was patient and good, serving God here below.

Tho' his sweet voice is hushed forever,
And his dear face we'll see, no never,
His memory around the hearts shall twine
Of we, who loved him, and were left behind,

Ruben's Demonstration Sale Of The Famous

NEPONSET

FLOOR COVERING

6 Days in which We Prove Its Superiority!

6 Days in which We Sell It at a Big Savings!

NEPONSET is far better than ordinary Printed Linoleum---Because it Wears Better and Costs Less. During this Sale the Price is

65c per square yard

When this Sale ends the Price will be $1.00 a sq. yd. Buy all the NEPONSET You will need for a long time--Save 35c on every sq. yard.

STORE DEMONSTRATION

An expert from the Neponset Mill will be with us during the days of the sale and will demonstrate that—

NEPONSET won't buckle or crack; lies flat on the floor and is sanitary. Its waxed back prevents it sticking to the floor. It is 100 per cent waterproof.

Ask to see the complete range of patterns—we have them all.

Remember that this saving 35c on every square yard (which runs into quite a sum of money if you are figuring on a large room or on several rooms) is made on a floor covering which is guaranteed in the fullest sense. Not only do Bird & Son, the makers, guarantee every roll of it, but we, of course, assure you the same satisfaction as though you had bought your NEPONSET at the full price of $1.00 a square yard.

NEPONSET Has Many Imitators---But the More you Compare It the More Clearly You Prove Its Superiority!

THE BASE

of NEPONSET Floor Coverings is a thick, tough, solid felt, which has been thoroughly waterproofed from top to bottom.

This makes it an ideal substance to walk on, on account of its resiliency. That is why it is used so extensively in places where it is necessary for people to be on their feet a good part of the time.
